

2020 CSCTFL Conference and Extension Workshop

There are two ways to participate in this workshop.

1. Regular convention attendees. When registering, any conference attendee may select this extended learning experience on the registration form. Only attendees who have paid both the conference registration fee and the additional workshop fee ($95.00) will be admitted to this all-day professional development experience.

2. Extension attendees. Conference attendees may also apply to participate in this extended learning experience as “extension” participants. Extension participants agree to present a workshop sharing what they have learned, for example at their state conference, at a county-wide or Intermediate School District professional development day, or for teachers in their school district.
 - ➔ “Extension” participants must also register for the convention and must select this workshop on their registration form.
 - ➔ They must complete and submit the extension participant application form. A link to the application is included on the Convention Preview page, below this link.
 - ➔ Once extension participants have made and documented the event(s) at which they shared (extended) the information from this workshop with others, the workshop fee ($95.00) and small honorarium ($50, to cover the cost of extension materials) will be paid.

Only attendees who have paid both the conference registration fee and the additional workshop fee ($95.00), completed the Extension Workshop application and been formally approved will be considered to be “extension workshop presenters.”
